Last week in giving the account of the death of W. T. Baker, we gave as the cause of his death apoplexy. This was a mistake, as the doctors reported his death due to thoracic aneurysm. This was a mistake of ours and not the doctors.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Freeman entertained at their home Thursday evening. Those present were Mrs. Blanche Beach, Misses Lois Beach, Jewell and Leona Hoover, Effie Cantrell, Hazel Dalglish, Messrs. Hobart Hensley, Tommy Sullivan, Ellison Gaines, J. B. Crouch.

Misses Bessie Meador and Nina Wilkerson entertained the junior and senior classes Friday evening, May 13, at the home of Mrs. Sarah Rippee. The senior class colors were effectively carried out in favors and souvenirs, and novel forms of amusement were provided by the hostesses.

Word has been received here of the arrival at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Pickell, in Battle Mountain, Nev., of an eight-pound baby girl, Barbara Sue. Mrs. Pickell was formerly Miss Hazel Burney, of this city, a daughter of G. S. Burney and wife, and is a sister of Mrs. Blanche Beach.

Col. Roy Dennis' son fell Tuesday, and quite badly hurt one of his eyes.

See the airplanes attempting to drop food to the soldiers in the death trap, when "The Lost Battalion" was cut off from all supplies. Don't miss this wonderful picture, Saturday, July 9th, afternoon and night.

Saturday and Sunday witnessed the departure of the out-of-town teachers for their homes. After a week at home, most of them will attend the summer session of the State Teachers' College, at Springfield.

The Clarence King Post, No. 128, American Legion, held a meeting in their hall last Monday night, and elected officers to fill vacancies as follows: Ira Stout, post commander; J. A. Carter, vice commander; Walter Coday, adjutant; W. O. Brown, chaplain. These vacancies had occurred by the fact of the boys moving away.

Commencement Week Happenings at the Mansfield School

Another school year is over, and seven more young people face the world, equipped to battle the problems of life. Thursday evening marked the consummation of the dream of these young people—a certificate of graduation from the Mansfield high school. The Rev. Dr. Leake delivered the class address, and for nearly an hour gave the graduating class and the commencement audience a "treat of words". John Newton gave the class salutatory, Joe Raby the class oration and Miss Zella Smith the valedictory address; all were creditable. Mr. A. C. Roy in a short speech presented diplomas to the graduates. Rev. Patterson delivered the invocation and benediction.

The grade school pupils gave a creditable program, entitled, "Little Folks Town", at the gym. last Friday evening. Recitations and songs comprised most of the program. Mrs. Bertha Newton and Miss Frona Rippee are to be commended for the work of the young people.

The annual high school banquet was given in the I. O. O. F. hall Friday evening, May 20. A four-course dinner was served to the guests. The senior class colors, purple and gold, were used for the color scheme. A gold flower was laid at the plate of each guest, and a bowl of purple sweet peas made the centerpiece. The menu:

Fruit Cocktail
Duchess Potatoes Creamed Peas
Chicken Croquettes Olives
Salad

Ice Cream Cake
Almonds Mints Coffee

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Kay and son, Strothers, Misses Hazel Dalglish, Nina Wilkerson, Bessie Meador, Mamie Beach, Oma Moore, Zella Smith, Elva Turner, Sylvia Brazel, Eula Alcorn, Elfra Smith, Ruby Dennis, Pauline Craig, Jessie Hoover, Lulu Ashworth, Ulla Cantrell, Messrs. Joe Raby, John Newton, Edgar Brazel, Everett Stephens, Ned Gaines. Miss Ulla Cantrell acted as hostess, and Ned Gaines as host. The waitresses were underclass students, Edna and Emma Palmer, Nola Dennis and Julia Divan.

"The Lost Battalion", a picture made by the survivors of the battalion lost in the Argonne drive, the death-trap clearly shown. A thrilling love story, with a bit of comedy, makes "The Lost Battalion" a picture you can not afford to miss.

Decoration Day Will Be Observed in Mansfield.

By request of Clarence King Post, No. 128, American Legion, all soldiers, sailors and marines are requested to be in Mansfield, May 30th, in uniform, for the purpose of participating in Decoration Day exercises. All members of the G. A. R. and their friends are asked to join in this tribute. The Mansfield band will furnish music, after which the people will march to the cemetery to decorate the graves of the departed ones. The program will be carried out under the auspices of the American Legion.

Auto Accident.

Five of the nine occupants of a Ford touring car, driven by Jason Hight, were injured about 5:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon, when the car was wrecked near D. S. Cantrell's residence. Another car had attempted to pass the Ford, near a culvert, and the accident resulted. Burney Hight, son of the driver of the wrecked car, was the most badly injured, being severely cut and bruised. H. L. Camp suffered a broken arm, and Mrs. Camp, Jason Hight and T. J. Young were cut and bruised. Barney Hight, Myra Hight, Aretha Young and Volland Young, the other occupants of the car, were uninjured. The accident occurred while people were returning from the ball game.
